THE DRAMA.

INCIDENTS AT HAND.

The Union Square Theatre will be reopened to-night, with Mr. Robert Buchanan's drama of "Storm-Beaten," which has been for a long time in preparation. On the same night, at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, Mr. Stetson will revive the drama of "Monte Christo," with Mr. James O'Neill, Mr. Frederic de Belleville, Mr. James Taylor, Engenie Blair, Marjorie Bonner, and others, in the cast. At the Star Theatre Messrs, Robson and Crane will appear, making Theatre Messrs. Robson and Crane will appear, making their re-entrance after a long absence, in their fareical play of "The Boarding House." Mr. and Mrs. Florence will appear at the Third Avenue Theatre and Mr. G. Williams at the Grand Opera House. The last performances of "Excelsior" are announced at Niblo's Garden. Mr. Daly has Mr. Pinero's comedy of "Girls and Boys" in readings. but he well head the back for a short time as these iness, but he will hold it back for a short time, as there is still a public demand for "Dollars and Sense." The re-entrance of Edwin Booth, which is assigned for December 10, at the Star Theatre, is of course anticipated as one of the most important events of the dramatic year. The return of this chieftain of the American stage,—reviving return of this chieftain of the American stage,—reviving memories of a storied past, and setting before us some of the greatest-dramatic works in our language—should not and cannot fail to arouse the liveliest public interest. Mr. Booth has just been offered the compliment of a public banquet, to celebrate his return to New-York, but this he has declined to accept. An interesting event of the present week will be the first appearance here of Mrs. Fairfax Bell, of London, who appearance here of Mrs. which, at home, she is highly distinguished.

THE STARS.

Edwin Booth ended his engagement in Boston on Saturday afternoon at the Globe Theatre. It was brill. iantly successful. Mr. Booth will appear in New-York on the 10th of December at the Star Theatre Lawrence Barret, continues his engagement in Boston at the Park Theatre, where he is drawing crowds in the play of night at the Third Avenue Theatre, in city......Kate Claxton devoies the present week to Rochester.....Genevieve Ward will act in Dublin, Ireland, till December 1. On December 3 she appears at Cork, where her provincial tour will ter minate on December 8. She then starts on her projected tour around the world Mrs. Langtry will be seen this week in Louisville.

John McCullough will act in Cleveland this week. Locke Richardson gives dramatic recitals in Philadelphia on November 26 and 29.....Lytten Sothern will be seen this week in Logansport, Richmond, and Indianapolis.....Kate Claxton reappears in New. York on December 10. Mrs. Langtry comes back to this city on January 7 (1884). John T. Raymond arrives here on January 13. Mr. Irving's return engagement will be filled at the Star Theatre next April Fanny Daven. portenters on the ninth week of her engagement at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, in the drama of "Fedora"-Fourteenth Street Theatre, in the drama of "Fedora"— a play which still engages some part of the public attention.....Marie Gelstinger continues her season of German drama at the Thalia Theatre, and her popularity with the German public has borne the test of time.
Messrs. Robson & Crane may be seen, during the next two weeks, at the Star Theatre, N. Y. ... Locke Richardson came over from Philadelphia and appeared at the Association Hall. N. Y., on the 23d inst., giving a brilliant recital of "Julius Cassar," to open the Association course of entertainments.....Mr. "Gus" Williams

It is probable that Miss Mary Anderson, at the London Lyceum, will play Bianca, in " Pazio," as well as Pauline, before she appears as Galatea and produces

Mr. Gilbert's new play. Miss Laura Don has been engaged to play Constance Winthrop, in the Madison Square Theatre Company. Miss Don will go to Australia next summer, to play there in the Madison Square Theatre dramas.

A recurrence of Mr. Anson Pond's military drama of "Her Atonement" will be perceptible to-night, at the People's Theatre. This play is getting to be well known. On December 3 Mr. M. B. Curtis will emerge at this theatre, in "Sam'i o' Posen."

"Young Mrs. Winthrop" is given this week at the Novelty Theatre, Williamsburg, with Miss Laura Don as Constance. Ada Dyas and E. J. Buckley are also in the

Mr. W. J. Scanlan is to appear at the Third Avenue Theatre on December 3 in a piece with the absurd Avenue Theatre on "Mr. Roland Reed, in "Cheek," title of "Peek-a-Boo." Mr. Roland Reed, in "Cheek," comes on the same date to the Grand Opera House.

When Mr. Buchanan's play, now announced at the Union Square Theatre, was produced in London at the Adelpid, last March, it was called "Storm-Bound." It will be presented here under the name of "Storm-

Mr. Charles Roberts, ir., the popular and favorite reader, and one of the most successful teachers of elocution and dramatic art now at work in this community, has lately established his school at No. 11 East Fourteenth-st.

"The Rajah" is a fixture at the Madison Square Theatre, and its 200th representation will arrive about a month hence. Here, and at most of the city theatres, an extra performance will be given on Thanks-

The San Francisco Minstrels should not be forgotten by those who are in quest of amusement. Mr. Birch is the leader of a numerous and good company of these sable comedians, and his programme is fre-quently changed.

" Cordelia's Aspirations," the new Irish drama at the Tacatre Comique, has pleased the public of Mesars. Harrigan & Hart, and doubtless will keep that stage for some time. The Mulligan flavor or this piece needs only to be indicated. There is abundance of mirth in it, together with happy satire of the Celtic character; and it is mounted and played with care.

Edwin Booth has made a remarkable sensatiod in Boston, by his performance of King Lear. The Transcript says: "In the reading of the lines Mr. Booth often rose above his commonly high level. We cannot remember to have heard the colloquial tone of ordinary human speech so admirably human aspech so admirably human dwith the awful dignity of Shakspeare's blank-verse, as it was by Mr. Booth in certain passages."

M1. Terriss has received and declined offers of engagement from several managers, since his first ap-pearance at the Star Theatre. He will not leave his present excellent position in Mr. Irving's dramatic company; and a denial is authorized of a statement recently published, that he had been engaged by Mr. Wallack. Mr. Terris has already gained a merited popularity in this city.

Miss Adela Rankin continues her "Mornings with Dickens," and she may be heard at the Madison Club Theatre on Saturdays, at 11 a.m. Last Saturday she read "Hard Times. Miss Rankin possesses the qualifi-cations of beauty, enthusiasm, a fine voice and a simple method; and her readings inspire a lively interest in the artist herself; while enforcing, carnestly and with quick intelligence, the humor and pathos of Dickens.

Haverly's Minstrels have made an auspicious beginning, at the Twenty-third Street Theatre. Nothing se has prospered at this house, but it appears now that the light entertainment of minstrelsy, as given by Mr. prestige of success. The Rice Troupe, in the farce of "Pop,"

LONDON GOSSIP.

AN ENGLISHMAN'S NOTES ON ENGLISH TOPICS.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]
LONDON, November 3.
Despite a true Englishman's clinging to country life, I nearly echoed Mr. Matthew Arnold's remark about "dear, smoky old London," on reaching my snug quarters after the heavy Houghton week at Newmarket. am reminded by a friend that we are not heavier but lighter considerably by the success of Bendigo and other unexpected winners. "Awfully hard," he continues,
"Just at the end of the season." Luckily for him, howver, he has had a good week at "the Punters' Arms," as we call a certain gambling club not unknown to that impecunious Indian the Maharajah Dhuleep Singh. "Old Nabob Pickles," as irreverent youths call the son of Runject and Chunda Koor, and sometime owner of the Koh-i-Noor, is not by any means a good punter, loving to take the bank at baccarat, in the hope of winning a great stake. The descendant of the Lion of the Punjab never does win largely, mainly because he plays a close game. does win largely, mainly because he plays a close game. His style is very inferior to that of the professional sportsman who wins such large sums of money. This operator, who has been "ballooned" out of California, Chicago, Brighton and other places too numerous to mention, is the delight of the mashers for the simple reason than the professional plays them for as high stakes as they like. that he will play them for as high stakes as they like. Whether he plays fairly or not is a question which does not seem to enter their minds.

Mr. H. T. Barelay, the owner of Bendigo, is as popular as Mr. "Harry" Hungerford or Sir "Johnnie" Willoughby. Himself a capital rider, Mr. Barclay is too straightforward and too rich to play any tricks with his He will be much richer one day, when his inhorses. come will touch forty thousand sterling per annum.

At Newmarket, as everywhere else, and notably at Sandown, the ready-money book-makers come out in great strength. These men bet only to cash duly staked, and make far greater profits than those who bet "on the nod." The brothers Frazer, who began a very few years ago, have amassed fifty thousand pounds, no small sum to make out of a capital consisting of a ten-pound note and a loud voice. " Dicky" Dunn is another ready-money better and a great favorite with the fair sportswomen of Newmarket, notwithstanding the extreme latitude of his language. The other day the heir apparent to an earldom-the sprightly young Iman who married a dog-fancier's daughter who danced and sang at a music-hall-backed a horse with "Dicky" Dunn for ten pounds at

Everybody in London was at the Lyccum Theatre on Saturday right, the Prince of Wales looking not so well as birlacher. The Baroness Burdett-Coutts and Mr. Burdett-Coutts, faithful to the Lyceum, were present in their great double box, surrounded by friends, and there was a great muster of annateurs, including Colonel Hughes, Hallett. Among the critica the Jovian head of Mr. "Joe" Knisht towered over Alfred Watson's cyceffuss, the white closs-cropped skull of Bernard Becker, and the ambrosial curls of Justin McCarthy. In the noxt row sat George Augustus Sala teiling Lowis Wingfield that Barnes, who played Claude Melnotte to Miss Anderson's Pauline Deschappelles, was "Barnes Common"—a local joke referring to a large and vacant piece of ground near London. It was a perfect premiere, and the supper after surround was very gay. A previous until, not to speak of telegrams, has told the American public kat the rapturous appliance of the first night did not go for much, and that the supper-caters, after sleeping off the effect of the traditional chickens and changagne, got up, sharpened their pens, and wrote by no means landatory notices of Miss Anderson's performance. Still I think she will have a successful season in spile of the want of judgment shown in bringing her before us in such rubbish as "Ingomar" and a stale old hackneyed play nike "The Lady of Lyons."

Mr. Alexander Henderson is very lucky as a manager.

"Ingomar" and a state old backneyed play like "The Lady of Lyons."

Mr. Alexander Henderson is very lineky as a manager "Falka," just produced at the Comedy Theatre, is a capital comic opera, promising another good run at this comfortable little house. Mr. Henderson is not only fortunate as an impressific but is a very elever finder or racing and a constant visitor at race meetings. The muste of "Falka" is pretty, albeit suggesting severa "steals" from Offenbach, and the dresses are clarification, Mas Violet Cameron is lovely as a husar officer in crimson, white and gold, and Miss Wadman is also lovely as a Zingara in black, red and yellow, the colors of the Zingar cricket cub and also of United Germany. A pretty bery of chorus ladies as sky-blue and aliver hissars produces a great effect on the mashers in the stage-boxes and stalls.

I regret to hear that a very penular man-about town.

I regret to hear that a very popular man-about town mown variously as "Batterity" and as "Comb," is a severe loser by the Waddelt affor. This gentleman, who s very tall and has projecting teeth, was called "Comb" in his old regiment because he was "all back and teeth."

severe loser by the water that. This is religion who is very tall and has projecting teeth, was called "Comb" in his old regiment because he was "all back and teeth," Yesterday was a sad day. Captain Hambury died from the injuries he received while riding a race entithursday at Lewes. Mr. Davidson fell down dead, at the Reform Club, and Mr. Leemun, M. P. for York, "Joe" Leeman, in the flarling of the York and Ainsty, the Bramham Moor and Lord Middleton's and the pet of the Orieans Chab, died of a cold caught, it is said, while shooting at Newmards Abbey with Sir George Wombwell, the celebrated "Sir Janrige," who was taken prisoner in the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaclava, escaped and rode gayly away and again escaped the ferrible firmthig secident at Newby Ferry in which poor Silngsby was lost. I cannot understand anybody coming to grief at Newburgh, for there is "snug lying in the Abbey," renowned for good cheer and good company. I cannot understand anybody catching cold while shooting participe or even pheasant. All the men who understand this kind of thing, as poor "Joe" Leeman undoubtedly did, wear a thick shooting waisteent with flammel back and misde as well as sieves. This addition to one's ordinary costume is more than equal to an overceast and keeps one warm even during the long wait at the tail of a spinney. Besides this we are cared for at the spot on which we consume a plentiful incheon. It would be death to the servants who did not bring thick overcoats with that meal, so that we may not get achil' while we stop walking and sit down to eat, a first when you good sense therein. I know an excellent sportanna who, when he goes grouse-driving, has, besides his loader (for he never shoots without three guns), a servant carrying a sort of drum. This receptacle serves as a seat within the butt or battery from which we shoot at the grouse 'as they pass over, and contains a thick loose overcoat, a French novel, a case well filled with Narf-crown cigars. Some donkeys call this eleminacy. I call it com pictures or good descriptions of sporting subjects. As a rule those who can ride cannot write, as those who can sketch cannot shoot. Poor Whyte Melville, for instance, was by no means one in the first flight, and John Everett Millais and William Black are very poor marksmen. Now "Archie" Wortley can do all these things, and will be well known to Americans by his famous match at pigeons with Dr. Carrer, in which the combatants made a dead-heat, and by his picture of "Grouse-Driving," the enly work of the kind which gives a clear idea of that most magnificent sport.

AN ADDRESS TO REPUBLICAN VOTERS.

ENROLMENT URGED-THE NEW PLAN OF ORGAN-IZATION APPROVED.

The Young Men's Republican Club of the City of

The Young Men's Republican Club of the City of New-York has issued the following address:

To the Republican Voters of the City:
In 1871 the existing organization of these ublican party in this city was established under the sanction of the State Convention. After a trial of more than ten years, it has proved inadequate. Its pledge was objectionable to a great portion of the party. Its management fell into the hands of a comparatively few individuals, The result was widespread dissatisfaction and party disaster.

tionable to a great portion of the party. Its management fell into the hands of a comparatively few individuals. The result was widespread dissatisfaction and party disaster.

In response to an almost universal demand for reorganization on a broader and more liberal basis, in which this club actively joined, the Republican Central Committee of this city appointed a committee of eighteen to frame a plan for such reorganization, which plan, approved by the Central Committee and sanctioned by the late State Convention, is about to go into effect. The essential feature of this plan is the re-enrolment of Republicans of each Assembly District. Every Republican voter, or person who will be entitled to vote at the November election in 1884, in the Assembly District, is entitled to be enrolled on the following conditions: "a. If he voted at the last election for Electors of President and Vice-President of the United States, he must, if then professing to be a Republican, have acted with the Republican party. b. If then out of the country, or not of age, or not attached to the Republican party, or for any reason not able to vote, it will be afficient that his present general intention is to act with the Republican party at the next ensuing election. He must state that he will not during the year attend or take part in the primaries or caucuses of any other political organization."

This curvolunt can only be made upon application in person. It is carried under the supervision of the Committee of Eighteen, with ample guarantees for its fairness in the character of the enrolling officers. Resides, the Primary Election iaw passed by the last Legislature throws around the enrolment and the primary elections to be held under it all the sanctions that surround a general registration and election.

Under these circumstances this club carnestly appeals to all Republicans, especially to those who have expressed dissatisfaction with the existing organization, to place their names on the rolls now.

GOVERNMENT REPORTS.

THE CONTRACTION OF CIRCULATING NOTES CONTROLLER KNOX'S SUGGESTIONS AS TO THE

LEGISLATION NEEDED. WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 .- Under the head of "Contraction of the National Bank Circulation," Controller Knox says in his annual report: "Unless there shall be legislation by the present Congress which shall reduce the receipts of the Government, it is probable that the United States bonds will continue to be paid at the same rate as during the past year, in which event all the threes will be called for redemption within the next three years. This will reduce the bonds held banks from 353 millions to 151 millions, and cause a contraction in the National bank circulation of about sixty millions per annum. This large contraction will be somewhat reduced by the action of those banks which substitute 4 and 412 per cents in place of the 3s; but the amount of long bonds neld by the banks may also be reduced by that class of banks which may conclude that it is for their interest to avail themselves of the premium at the time when, in their opinion, the value of said bonds shall reach their maximum price in the market." HOW CONTRACTION MAY BE AVOIDED. "It is evident," the Controller says, "that unless there is additional legislation the bonds held as security for circulation will rapidly diminish. New legislation may, however, postpone the payment of the public debt, or cause the profit on circulation to increase sufficiently to induce the National banks to invest in the long 4 per cents, which are not to mature for a period of twenty-four years. The contraction of the bank circulation may be avoided by reduction of the redundant revenue, and there is no doatt that this is the true policy. . . The contraction of the bank circulation may also be avoided by the conversion of the long bonds into three per cents, by offering inducements to the holders of these bonds to exchange them for three per cents to mature in 1907, the Government paying to the holders thereof a reasonable amount for their difference in value. The principal objection made to this proposition is that the Government would pay to the holders a large premium upon the bonds held by them, but it is evident that in the course of two or three years, after the three per cents are paid, if there is no reduction in the revenue, the surplus will enormously increase, unless the long bonds are then purchased by the Government at a rate to be then fixed by the holders thereof, which will be a rate much higher than that now proposed. The premium to be paid to the holders of these long bonds may be considerably reduced by providing that the circulation to be issued upon the proposed bonds when deposited by the National banks as security therefor shall not be subject to the present tax of 1 per cent per annum, or by postponing the time for their payment. Such legislation would make the new bonds more valuable for this purpose than for any other, and would be likely to prevent their withdrawai until maturity, if once deposited, and for this reason the bonds would be more desirable as a basis for circulation than any which have heretofore been issued. The contraction would be accided by providing for the removal of the tax on circulation and the increase of the amount of circulation to be issued to the banks upon the bonds d culation will rapidly diminish. New legislation may, however, postpone the payment of the public debt, or ters to smaller craft, such as sail-bouts, row-bouts, etc., on which were 244 persons, 240 of whom were saved. The property involved in the latter disusters was $66,180, of which $6,280 was lost. In addition to those saved from

The property lavolved in the basis and the property lavolved in the basis from the high property of the life-saving crews.

Investigations established the fact that the nineteen persons lost were entirely beyond the reach of human and, of this number nine were drowned by the suden capsizing of vessels at some distance from land before assistance could reach them; seven were lost in embayoring to get ashors by their own efforts while the life-saving crews were harrying to the resone; one perished from being thrown overboard from a stranded vessel; and one died as soon as landed, owing to previous exposure on a wreek. The number of disasters exceeds by seventy-one the number of disasters of the year preceding, which was considerably larger than that of any previous year in the history of the service. The anomal of property in vived was $2,476,393 greater than in the preceding year, but the amount lost was $83,750 less than that of the preceding year, while the amount saved was $2,505,243.

sign of persons involved, 18,760; number of persons succored at stations, 3,720.

Since the last report seven additional stations have been completed—one at Hunniweh's Beach, Maine, one at Maskeget Island, and one at Coskata, Nantucket, Maskeget Island, and Cape Hatterss, and one at Oeracoke, coast of North Carolina. Four other stations are in process of construction and approaching completion—one at Lewes, Delaware; one at Morth Heach, Maryland; one at Lewes, Delaware; one at Parramore's Beach, Virginia, There have been nine sites selected for new stations, which it is proposed to construct next year, provided titles, which kave been promised, are obtained, and sufficient appropriation shall be made by Congress, namely; One at Brenton's Point, Rhode Island; one at Grand Marais, Lake Superior; one at Frankfort, one at Pentwater, one at the month of White River, one at Pentwater, one at South Haven, Michigan; one at Michigan City, Indiana; and one at Sturgeon Bay Canal, Wisconsin. Siles are also now being selected for the remaining stations authorized by Congress.

The General Superintendent attributes much of the high efficiency of the service to its exemption from political influences, and states that the statute enacted in 1882, declaring it non-political, has made it in a casier task for him to conduct life-saving affairs with sole reference to the public good.

THE REVENUE MARINE SERVICE. Washington, Nov. 25.-In his annual report Major Clark, Chief of the Revenue Marine, says, in part: This service continues to perform satisfactory work. Its vessels, which now number thirty-eight, cruised an aggregate of 300,880 miles and boarded and examined 25,587 vessels, of which number 2,240 were selzed or reported for violating the law. In relief work they have been particularly efficient, having assisted 224 vessels in distress, which with their eargoes aggregated in value $4,885,175, and on board which were 2,497 persons. Sixty people have been picked out of the water and saved from drowning. One revenue steamer alone assisted seventy-six merchantmen, valued with their cargoes at $1,493,020. Under the vigilant cruising of the revenue cutters in Alaskan waters the lilicit selling to the natives of frearms and rum by the masters of lawless trading schooners has fallen off greatly, these operations being confined now principally to the Siberian coast. The expenses of the service for the year were $853,553.

RESPECTING A LAND GRANT. Washington, Nov. 25 .- Secretary Teller said to-day that he has decided nothing whatever in rela tion to the Congressional Land Grant of the Texas Pacific Railroad Company and the rights of the Southern Pacific thereunder. He said the question of the right of the New-Orleans Pacific Company to take the grant originally made to the Baton Rouge and Vicksburg road was referred to the Attorney-General by his predecessor, and the Attorney-General decided that the assignee was entitled to the land; but no action was taken on this decistitled to the land; but no action was taken on this decision of the Attorney-General for nearly one year, and not until Congress had refused to not and the Senate had adopted the report of a committee declaring that the assignee was entitled to the grant.

Some of the facts in the cases, he added, are not analogous, for the New-Orleans Pacific Company built the road after it had taken the assignment of the grant, and the Southern Pacific took its assignment after it had built the road; but he did not propose to express an opinion as to the right of the Southern Pacific Company in advance of reaching the case in the regular order of business, which would not be done for some time. He saw no reason for making the case special, and he did not intend to make it special.

AMERICAN TRADE WITH CHINA.

THE REPOSENE OIL BUSINESS INJURED BY

SPECIAL TAX. Washington, Nov. 25 .- Consul Charles Seymour, of Canton, in a report to the State Department, states that a serious injury has been inflicted on the American kerosene oil trade in China by the action of the Chinese Government in authorizing the levying of a special tax of 40 cents per case of ten gallons, in addition to the ordinary import duty on all importations of the oil into Canton. The right to levy the tax has, he says, been granted to an oil syndicate, which controls the im-portations of that commodity in consideration of the payment of the sum of $31,000 per annum into the Provincial Treasury, and its effect, he adds, has been almost to destroy the trade since the special tax went into operation in October, 1882. He says that a remonstrance made to the Chinese authorities remonstrance made to the Chinese authorities elicited the reply that "once foreign merchandise has entered China and become the property of the Chinese merchants, the manner and amount of the tax thereon cannot be controlled by foreigners."

Mr. Seymour also submits suggestions with respect to increasing American trade in food products with China, for the use of Americans and Europeans residing in that country. He thinks that flour should be shipped from California, and that "Akron oatmeal" would compete favorably with oatmeal from Scotland, Australia and Now-Zealand, and that there are many other articles which might be shipped from the United States with profit, if Americans could be induced to comply with the requirements of tropical countries in the matter of packing.

Evacuation Day. Aiready, we say, it is some years ago Since we commemorated—with more or less show— The short, plucky battle of Old Bunker Hill, The great Declaration, and so on, until The army disbandment a fortnight ago,

And now we have come to the end of the show. The twenty-fifth day of the month of November The twenty-first day of the most of the most of the fact is correct, as you all will remember, When the morning was just about changing to noon. The Red-Coats marched out of our town to a tane Which, as far as we know-and not given to flattery-

Has never been heard since around the old Battery Soldiers who fought then have long since been dust, The weapons that shone then are eaten with rust,
And our country untrammelled by Monarchy's power,
Has risen to glory ne'er dreamed of before. Wonderful inventions this cycle has a And one of the chiefest is JAMES PYLE'S PEARLINE!

It is good for the paint and the knob on the door, It will brighten the mirror and clean up the floor, It will whiten the clothes till they're whiter than milk, It will soften the bath till it's softer than silk With this knowledge, so useful to high and to low, We will all feel more pleasure in seeing the show.

FIVE POINTS HOUSE OF INDUSTRY, 155 WORTH-ST.

Morris K. Jesup, President.
George F. Belts, Secretary.
George H. Morgan.
Charles Lader,
WILLIAM F. BARNARD, Superintendent.

The House of Industry makes its thirtieth annual appeal for mancial assistance to crable it to continue its redeeming rork at the Five Points.

During these many years it has received the financial assistance to enable it to continue its reference work at the Five Points.

Buring these many years it has received the support of the public generally, and has saved from lives of poverty and crime hundreds of children whose parents are not able to do anything for their support, and children whose parents are able to partially support them, as well as homeiess and friendless little ones are received into the fustinition until they can be otherwise provided or. Children whose parents are too poor to send them to the public schools are admitted to the country day-school, and in every possible way the institution seeks to be of hencit to the poor at the Five Points.

During they year a Day Nursery has been opened wherein 40 to 50 children, ranging in arcs between one and five years are cared for from 1 o'clock in the morning to 7 o'clock at night, while the mothers go out to work.

To provide for all the various branches of the work, the sum of $100 a day is required, and for this sum the House of Industry is larrely indebted to the generous offerings of its friends.

There are now more than 400 children each day at the diamer-table.
